

Ekaterina Mandrygina is a PhD student at the Physics Department of Lomonosov Moscow State University. She is also a researcher at the Research Computing Center of Lomonosov Moscow State University. Her research focuses on the application of molecular modeling methods to search for inhibitors of relevant therapeutic target proteins. The project is supported by a grant from the Theoretical Physics and Mathematics Advancement Foundation “BASIS”.